The kaiser still claims that the naval battle was a great victory for Germany.

We haven't noticed, however, that the kaiser is in any great hurry to try it again.

"A fool and his money are soon parted," they say.

Yes, but what has always puzzled us is how the fool and his money happened to get together in the first place.

If Germany has done as well as she claims against the British fleet, one cannot help wondering why she has and still does spend so much powder and shot on unarmed vessels.

We hear much of the "model husband," who isn't; but too, too little of the model wife, who is.

There are not half as many men sawing wood and saying too nothing as there are saying too much and sawing no wood.

The report that Germany has 9,000,000 men under arms is very probably exaggerated.

But is doubtless true that she 1,000,000 or more under ground

The coming presidential campaign will demonstrate whether Wilson is too proud to fight.

Even if the water were diverted at Niagara Falls for the running of wheels, the honeymooners thereabouts might not notice the difference.

Lot of men are lenient with themselves because of their belief that charity begins at home.

Life is a lease imposed on the tenant without previous communication of the conditions in the contract.

And not only does it take all kinds of people to make a world, but it takes all kinds of people to make a big town. Are you doing your part?

Makes the Sacrifice

J. A. McCOLL LOSES ANOTHER BROTHER AT THE FRONT

J. A. McColl has received the very sad news of the death of his brother, Edmund E. who died from the effects of a very serious wound received at the late battle at Ypres, where so many Canadians have suffered. From information to hand, it seems that he was wounded on the 5th of June, receiving a compound fracture of the thigh, but at the time no fatal effects were anticipated. Unfortunately, however, other complications set in, which terminated fatally on the 15th inst. Deceased leaves a wife, also a young son he had not seen, having been born while he was at the front. This is the second brother of Mr. McColl's who has made the supreme sacrifice for his country and the Empire. This family has "done its bit!" What have you done? Either fight or pay!

Chinook's Sports Day

WAS THE BEST YET

Beats All Previous Records Both in Number of Visitors and Enjoyment of Sports

CHINOOK has had successful sports days before, but none were ever more so than the one held last Friday. The weather which had been cold and stormy for some two or three weeks, cleared up for three or four days previous, and both Jupiter Pluvius and Old Sol conspired to give Chinook one of the brightest and hottest days of this season, so far, for our sports day.

Then, too, the crowd was the largest and one of the happiest lot of people, gathered together from a large area, that has been with us on our annual holiday.

The programme was an attractive one, thanks to our energetic officers and committee. The old-time baseball was attractive as ever to a very large crowd of people—notwithstanding all its errors, muffs, misses and muddles. The old game still retains its fascination. The horse racing was another fascinating attraction and drew a big crowd to watch the trials of speed. There was one noticeable feature among this crowd and that was the large number of autos present, there being some forty or more lined up in a group, the horse and buggy being conspicuous by its absence. In fact, very few were seen at the sports during the day.

BASEBALL

The programme started off with baseball. As the matches proceeded, it was easily to be seen that Collholme had managed to get together the best aggregate of players. The games were all seven innings, except the juniors, which was five.

Rearville vs. Chinook.—Some pretty good play was given by both sides, but neither showed to best advantage, the home team winning out.

Collholme vs. New Bliss.—In the second innings a dispute arose owing to a decision of one of the umpires, in which both sides joined, and for a minute or two it looked as though there was going to be trouble over what New Bliss claimed was a "rotten decision," but better judgment prevailed, and the storm blew over. Collholme took the game.

Chinook, having seen the way Collholme handled the above game, kind of got scared, and defaulted to Collholme, the latter taking first money.

A match was made by Collholme and Keswick, $10.00 aside. This was by far the best exhibition of baseball given during the day both side doing some pretty work. The score stood 4-3 in favor of Collholme.

Youngstown vs. Chinook juniors.—The home team got away in good shape and led to the third innings, when the visitors began to overhaul their opponents and breaking away were soon in the lead, when the home team went to pieces, the visitors winning out.

FOOTBALL

Cereal vs. Chinook.—This game was brought on somewhat later than schedule time. These two teams have tried conclusions two or three times this season, with varying fortunes. In the first half of this game, after a few tosses of the leather, the home team slipped one over their opponent's goal-keeper by jabbing the ball in over his head, but try as they would they couldn't fool that wiley goal-keeper again during that half. In the second half, however, just as the goal-keeper was going to yawn—for it was getting late—the home team, watching their chance, slipped in another one on the side. The visitors worked hard to make a break, but it was no use, and the game ended 2-0 in favor of the home team. The visitors had one or two narrow squeaks in getting the ball through, one time the ball striking the outside post and glancing off. The two teams are fairly evenly matched. Some fine combination was done by both sides.

HORSE RACES

The trials of speed was pulled off in good shape, most of the horses in the series of speed trials being very evenly matched, with very exciting finishes.

Chinook Breezes

Miss Coral Fowler of Stanmore was the guest of Mrs. A. Nicholson last week end.

The R. M. council of Sounding Creek are meeting in Chinook to-day.

More Improvements

Between 600 feet of 4ft and 8ft sidewalk is being laid in the village this week, with three extra crossings.

Is Very Badly Needed

Several car loads of ties have been unloaded at Chinook this week for a new full length passing track, work on which will be commenced at once.

Can't Have Too Much

Mr. Robt. Dobson has been successful in getting a good supply of water at the well he has just had bored at his feed barn at a depth of 50 feet.

Trust It May Not Be Serious

Mr. W. Leadbetter received a telegram yesterday morning, conveying the news that his son, Wm. Eric, had been wounded at the front by shrapnel in the face. Further particulars later.

Promises to Beat Previous Records

From all directions in this district comes the report of the fine conditions of the crops and rapid growth. 1916 crop bids fair to eclipse last year's crop, and that's going some.

Preparing for July 1st, and After

The village council has had two new wells bored, each giving a good supply of water, and a third well is probable. This will give the village five good wells of water, in addition to the three wells at the three feed stables, so that henceforth, farmers and others will always be able to get a plentiful supply of good water at several convenient places in the village.

Gets a Handsome Range

Mrs. W. W. Isbister was the lucky winner of the handsome $85.00 Fireco range given away by the Banner Hardware Co. for the one who first guessed the number—or nearest—of beans and wheat in a quart sealer. Mrs. Isbister's guess, which was registered only some twenty-four hours before the closing hour of the competition, was 9954, and the correct number being 9952. We believe there was another guess the same as the winning number, but was registered later.

C.N.R. Has Promised

TO MOVE ALL GRAIN ON GOOSE LAKE LINE BY JULY 1

The C.N.R. has given an understanding to the railway board of commissioners to remove the balance of the crop of 1915 from all points on the Goose Lake line by July 1, and if the company fails to meet the situation it will acquiesce to a proposal that the other railways be allowed to take out the crop. The undertaking was given in the form of a letter from H. W. McLeod, general manager of the C. N. R. The company has made arrangements to secure 300 cars a day from other roads, which will put 700 cars a day at its disposal. If this is completed the hauling capacity of the company will be doubled.

Quick Help for Strains and Sprains Wonderful Relief in One Hour

Rare Herb and Root Extracts
in this Liniment Give It
Marvellous Power

RUB ON NERVINE

You'll be astonished at the rapid pain relieving action of "Nervine." Its effectiveness is due to its remarkable penetrating power—it strikes deeply, sinks to the very core of the trouble.

Nervine is stronger, many times stronger, than ordinary liniments, and it's not greasy, it doesn't discolor. Every drop sinks in, bringing comfort and healing wherever applied.

You will scarcely believe how it will relieve a sprain, how it takes out lameness, how it soothes and cures a bruise.

Thousands say no liniment is half so useful in the home. This must be so, because Nervine is a safe remedy you can rub it on even a child with fine results.

Just you keep Nervine on hand—it's a panacea for the aches, pains and slight fits of the whole family. One bottle will keep the doctor's bill small, and can be depended on to cure rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, catarrh, toothache, pleurisy, strains or swelling. Wherever there is a pain rub on Nervine, it will always cure.

The large size family size bottle is the most economical; trial size 25c. Sold everywhere by dealers or direct from the Chattanooga Co., Kingston, Canada.

HOW MRS. BEAN MET THE CRISIS

Carried Safely Through Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Nashville, Tenn.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I had a terrible time. I was very nervous and my head was so large as a child's head. The doctor said it was three years coming and gave me medicine for it until I was called away from the city for some time. Of course I could not go to him then, so my sister-in-law told me that she thought I should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure it. It helped both the Change of Life and the tumor and when I got home I did not need the doctor. I took the Pinkham remedies until the tumor was gone, the doctor said, and I have not felt it since. I tell every one how I was cured. If this letter will help others you can use it."

—Mrs. E. H. BEAN, 625 Joseph Avenue, Nashville, Tenn.

Dardanelles to be Russia's After War

According to Professor Milnikoff, the Liberal leader in the Russian Parliament (The Duma) the Allies some time ago settled that they were victorious the control of the Dardanelles would pass out of the hands of Turkey into Russia's.

Speaking in the Duma the professor said: "The end of March, 1915, is a date which is well worthy of remembrance by the Russian people. That is the date when a definite agreement was reached between us and our allies regarding the future of the Dardanelles."

"Our Russian interest in this war can be defined very briefly. We need an outlet to the Mediterranean Sea to begin the war for this, but without it we shall not end it."

And thus will the will of Peter the Great, the foundation of Russian diplomatic policy, come to the fulfillment of one of its principal designs.

Most Eminent Medical Authorities Endorse It.

Dr. Eberle and Dr. Braithwaite as well as Dr. Simon—all distinguished authors—agree that whatever may be the disease, the urine seldom fails in furnishing us with a clue to the principles upon which it is to be treated, and accurate knowledge concerning the nature of disease can thus be obtained. If backache, scalding urine or frequent urination bother distress you, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, gout or sciatica or you suspect kidney or bladder trouble, just write Dr. Pierce at the Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N.Y., send a sample of urine and describe your symptoms. You will receive medical advice after Dr. Pierce's chemist has examined the urine—this will be carefully done without charge, and you will be under no obligation. Dr. Pierce during many years of experimentation has discovered a new remedy which he finds is thirty-seven times more powerful than lithia in removing uric acid from the system. If you are suffering from backache or the pains of rheumatism, go to your best druggist and ask for a 50-cent box of "Lithia" put up by Dr. Pierce. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak women and Dr. Pierce's Kidney and Bladder Remedy for the blood have been favorably known for the past forty years and more. They are standard remedies for the world.

As Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the liver and bowels. You can get a large trial package for the price of any one of these remedies by writing Dr. Pierce.

Doctor Pierce's Pellets are unequalled as a Liver Pill. One tiny Sugar-coated Pellet cures Cystitis, Headache, Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.

Britain's Last Line

Germany may shoot with joy today, but the hour will come when the historic crisis of delight over number will give place to other quite different manifestations. We possess, and shall continue to possess, an abundance of force in the "ditch" which surrounds us. Germany has no such position. She is the country which offers the greatest target for aircraft. That she is in her season, by force on the island Germany who are now being speeded with aerially the achievements of their airships will doubt credit to their distinguished fellow-countrymen, Baron Münchhausen—London Telegraph.

A Natural Impulse

Our grim business is to see that all forms of brutality are defeated, and to trust to our own right hands and to no party or influence in Germany to accomplish that object. We cannot pretend to be surprised that some people are saying in their wrath that never again will they trust or interfere with a nation which not only permits its leaders to conduct a complete campaign of lies, but also the economic cost of it which. But do not let us confuse this with the demand for a civil right which is merely peace-loving Germany. If you think that a man is a monster who has cut off his nose from his nose with his own hand, you make yourself ridiculous by saying that he may keep a small shop but not a big one—Westminster Gazette.

What Point Does

Paint preserves wood. It fills cracks in the weather boarding, and actually makes the lights warmer in winter. The sun has a bad effect on a building that is unpainted. It is the sun's rays, this letting the rain soak in, which soon causes decay to start. If pointed, the oil in the paint keeps the surface from drying out. Paint at the end of this war we are no sign of repugnance and no measure of security. The world against the reputation of these crimes, we should certainly be of opinion that there is no remedy but a complete revision of the old law. The economic cost of it which. But do not let us confuse this with the demand for a civil right which is merely peace-loving Germany. If you think that a man is a monster who has cut off his nose from his nose with his own hand, you make yourself ridiculous by saying that he may keep a small shop but not a big one—Westminster Gazette.

British Snipers Now Successful

A soldier at the front writes: "Sniping is now an important and successful part of the fighting of British front-line troops. The Germans no longer hold supremacy which would be as in the past, at the beginning of the campaign. Man for man, British sharpshooters have shown themselves to be as fast, steady as the Germans, while excelling them in daring, accuracy, and perseverance, and they are a great help to the hands of the British line. They have not a marked effect on the attitude of the enemy. No more do they stroll about carelessly behind their lines, or show themselves in apparently safe spots as sniping parties in the belief that the British artillerists could not harm them."

Bird Protection

Canadian Organization Doing Good Work in the Schools

The Canadian Society for the Protection of Birds, founded about a year and a half ago, is actively engaged in the promotion of bird protection throughout Canada. While national interest is naturally concentrated on patriotic endeavor along other lines, which has been done through lectures, addresses and social meetings to enlist public sympathy on behalf of the society's work. Thousands of copies of a very valuable report, "The Value of Birds to Man," by James Burdland, are being distributed; also posters warning the public of the penalty attached to the destruction of insectivorous and other birds.

A further important feature of the movement is the manufacture of nesting boxes. Through the efforts of Mr. J. A. Harvey, a well known Toronto architect, hundreds of boxes of solid timber, hollowed out, which when imported cost three dollars each, have been made for the society at a cost of five cents each.

Local branches of the organization will be formed in any part of the Dominion, special attention being given to arousing the interest of children.

Strongly Recommends

Baby's Own Tablets

Mrs. Anna Tower, Johnson's Mills, N. B., writes: "I can strongly recommend Baby's Own Tablets to all mothers whose little ones are suffering from constipation as I have proved them an excellent medicine for my little ones. Baby's Own Tablets not only cure constipation but they make feeding easy, break up colic, expel worms and regulate the stomach and bowels. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 2 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Aeroplane Building

The establishment of aeroplane in France constitutes an important industry. Women who take part in their construction are declared to be the best hands at the intricate parts. The women especially delicate hands, the rib, bearing, and covering all done by women under expert supervision.

The French aeroplane engines are said to be the most portable of any in the world. Hundreds are required to run a new bomber, while many are completely complete and effective, they are worn out.

Germany is coming to the fore as an important automobile. Since the middle of 1914, when the war started, the United States practically has had a monopoly of the trade. The value of the American cars imported into Germany during the first six months of 1915 was almost equal to the value of all cars exported during the whole of 1914.

Failure to get the good of the food you eat.

"Here is the Nerve Food I know that will help you."

Malnutrition

It is not what you eat, but what you eat, digest and absorb, that counts in keeping up the health and vigor of the human body. If you are not getting the benefit of the food you eat you should suspect the nervous system, for the nerves control the flow of the gastric juices of the stomach and the other chemical fluids of the digestive system which effect the digestion of starches, fats, etc.

Especially at this season of the year digestion lags, appetite fails, you do not get the good of the food you eat and vitality is consequently lowered. You feel the effects in loss of energy and ambition, feelings of fatigue come over you and you lack in courage and good cheer.

Eating more will not help you, for you must have nourishment in an easily assimilated condition so that it may be taken up by the blood stream without effort. In short, you need such assistance as is best afforded by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

By using this food cure you enrich the blood and supply nourishment directly to the starved nervous system. The nerves which control the process of digestion are invigorated, digestion is improved, appetite sharpened, and gradually you are restored to health and vigor.

This is Nature's way. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food supplies the elements and the process of Nature corrects these elements into new, rich blood and new nerve force. You cannot fail to be benefited by such treatment, and the results obtained are lasting.

Canada A Rich Prize

It may safely be said that only the dominant power of the great battle of the world has kept the war thus far from our very doors. Canada would have been a rich prize, and it is not at all certain that the neutrality of the United States would have counted more than that of Belgium—in fact, there are evidences that it has been as highly regarded—Philadelphia Bulletin.

LADY URSULA'S HUSBAND

FLORENCE WARDEN

Word, Lock & Co., Limited

"Dear old things," said he, apostrophizing affectionately a necklace of diamonds, pearls and emeralds in an old-fashioned setting. "I suppose you will think my taste atrocious, but I like these barbaric ornaments better than all your modern platinized diamonds, which to me have always a dead, dull look. I suppose it's because I remember these gaudy things found the neck and on the dress of my grandmother."

Lady Ursula was watching, not the jewels but her husband. Perhaps, loyal as she was, all these jewels, this chase from the country to the other, the tales she had just heard, the new light in which she saw Paul that morning, had all combined to make her, at the bottom of her heart, vaguely suspicious and on edge.

Her innocent blue eyes were fixed upon him, her lips were parted, and it was easy to read upon her countenance the varying thoughts that rose in her mind as she looked at her husband.

And he, being infinitely cleverer than she, knew exactly what was passing in her mind, and on pretence of the necessity of caution in his dealings with her.

His intentions had been to take the jewels away from her, with the exception of one or two of the most modest ornaments, and to dispose of them in his own way, on pretence of putting them in a safe place. Now he began to wonder whether she would suffer this, or whether their disappearance would rouse fresh doubt in her mind.

There was a pause, during which he played with the heavy old necklace, and Lady Ursula watched him. At last he said:

"I wonder whether I was right in refusing your brother permission to take them to me last night. I might have been over-zealous, after all, to leave them in a safe place while we are travelling about."

Lady Ursula laid forward eagerly. "May I take them back to Tom, then?" asked she.

Paul laughed. "No," he said. "Not after what he said to me last night. Call it common sense if you will, but I don't feel inclined to do anything your brother wants me to do."

A shadow crossed her face, and it was plain that once again suspicion was clouding her mind. "Look here," said Paul, "if you like, I'll put them away till we come back to Paris on our last night. I'll have them raised for me and looked straight in his face."

"Put them away? Where?" she asked.

It seemed to him that she was suspicious again. He waved his hand impatiently.

"Oh I could get them locked up at a banker's safe," he said.

Lady Ursula shook her head.

"No," she said slowly, "we'll keep them with us, Paul. I don't really mind the responsibility, and—well, I'd rather."

Paul was taken aback. Not having been present at the interview between the brother and sister, he could not tell exactly what had passed between them, and he was not at all sure that the poison of suspicion had been instilled into his wife's mind by Lord Eastling to an extent which would be dangerous to insist upon taking the jewels away from her against her will.

Probably Lord Eastling had warned her that it would be taken away, and had prepared her to look upon it as a disappearance with distinct motives.

Yet how was he to satisfy his confederates, who were clamouring for their share of the booty obtained by their latest raid, unless he could carry the jewels to them that afternoon, as he had arranged to do?

Paul was in a dilemma.

Meanwhile Lady Ursula gathered the cases together and went to the adjoining room where she looked at them away in a haze. He could see her, through the aperture of the open door, bestowing the latest and the latest dressings with scrupulous care, and opening each case, one by one, before putting it away.

Decidedly, in the state of doubt and mystery which had been created by the events of the last few hours, he did not dream of him taking the jewels away without her knowledge was out of the question.

After waiting for him from the sitting-room, whither he had retired, Paul made up his mind to go to her, and taking his wife for a walk, he brought her back to the hotel and told her that he had an appointment to keep that afternoon, he went away, without the jewels, to meet his expectant partner, in crime.

They were waiting for him, and they had arranged to take him to the room they had engaged at an English-American boarding-house, as the best place for a quiet talk and share-out of the spoils.

Paul went with them to the room, saying nothing till they were shut together, except these few words which he uttered as they passed him with cries of, "Have you got them with you? I'll explain."

"No, not yet. I'll explain."

"No, not yet. I'll explain."

"No, not yet. I'll explain."

"No, not yet. I'll explain."

"No, not yet. I'll explain."

"No, not yet. I'll explain."

"No, not yet. I'll explain."

"No, not yet. I'll explain."

"No, not yet. I'll explain."

"No, not yet. I'll explain."

"No, not yet. I'll explain."

"No, not yet. I'll explain."

They said nothing to this, but Paul guessed from the expressive and gloomy glances which the other two exchanged, that he was going to take a plunge into difficulties.

When they were all together in the pleasant second floor bedroom, with the water afternoon sun streaming through the window, Paul took a seat which faced them both, and said:

"I want to make a fresh bargain with you two fellows. I want you to let me hang on to all the stuff we got in Vienna."

The men shook their heads at once. "By Jove, I thought there was something in the wind!" exclaimed Brady, showing his fangs to the other.

"And our answer is quite ready and at your service, my lord," said Will Evans in a snarling tone. "It's no, excluding you, Sir, no back and forth the swag, and be quick about it, or we'll find a way to make you."

"There's no need to talk about making me do anything," said Paul, savagely. "I'm absolutely in your hands in the matter. If you insist on a share-out at once, well, you've taken your rights, and you must have it. But I think, when you've heard what I've got to say, you may very likely change your mind."

"No, we shan't," said one. "We've waited a good long time, a matter of six months, for this share-out, and putting ourselves out for your convenience. Now you might just consider."

"Let's hear what he's got to say first," said Gane.

"It's only this," said Paul calmly. "I've changed his mind, and I'm taking his share out of his hands, and I'll hold the rail with both hands."

"That if you insist on a share-out at once, well, you've taken your rights, and you must have it. But I think, when you've heard what I've got to say, you may very likely change your mind."

Good Sanitation At the Front

Dr. Grenfell Praises Work of the British Medical Men in War

"There is less typhoid at the front than there is in measles," according to Dr. Alfred Grenfell, head of the Labrador medical missions, who has been for three months with the Harvard regiment, and who is now returning to his work in Labrador. He is unimpeachably enthusiastic about the work of the British medical men at the front.

"Look at typhoid," he remarked. "Heretofore many armies have been decimated by it. When the British took over the trenches west of Ypres, where typhoid was epidemic in the villages, the allies had already 600 cases of this disease. Twenty-six thousand Belgians had to be inoculated with the vaccine, and the British, Tommy playing Hercules in cleaning up this Augean stable, had the typhoid in so small a factor, if a single case were anywhere in four armies it is known the same night at headquarters, and next day a regiment at the front is held as free of the disease."

The sanitary service of all the forces and villages near the front has been taken over by the Army Medical Corps. Sewers and drains have been put in, and the water supply is protected at the least possible cost. At certain places near the line one sees a series of furnaces all made from old tin filled with clay, having air spaces between them, which are lighted to keep the air from getting into the water supplies. One sees everywhere the trail of their work in labels hanging from the trees, and in such a way that it is not to be used until chlorinated."

"Perhaps," said Paul. "Anyhow, I shan't work with you two any longer."

"Oh, I see. So it's a threat, is it?" demanded Evans, thrusting his little mean dark-skinned face into that of the handsome man who looked such a strange companion for him.

"Yes, it is a threat. And you know, if we split up, who will be the worst loser?"

Brady grunted through his teeth at the dispirited look humorously.

"Of course we do, Syd, and we're going to go to split up," he said.

"Your toff, your toff, and if you look up with us you can get lots of other toffs to help you keep going."

"The two men exchanged glances. We shan't go no pals except to you working in the same line of business."

"You're a toff, and you know, if we split up, who will be the worst loser?"

"Perhaps," said Paul. "Anyhow, I shan't work with you two any longer."

Will Feed Poland British Government to Undertake the Problem

The British government has agreed to plan whereby the civilian population of Poland may be fed by the American commission.

The agreement specifies certain additions to German guarantees covering the distribution of food before the permission becomes effective.

The chief points in the additional proposals by the British government to the German guarantees are stipulations providing that the relief shall apply to Russian Poland as a whole, instead of to the portion occupied by the Germans, and an undertaking on the part of the German and Austrian governments adequately to feed Serbia, Albania and Montenegro.

Needed Teaching

Vells from the nursery brought the mother, who found the baby greedily pulling small Billy's curls.

"Never mind, darling," she comforted. "Baby doesn't know how to hurt."

Had an hour later will shudder from the baby made her run again to the nursery.

"Why, Billy," she cried, "what is the matter with him? He never had any trouble with his curls, has he?"

"Nothing, mummy," said Billy calmly. "Only now he knows."

NOTES

Some 134 ribbons were sold for the dance at night. Over 100 couples were on the floor at once. Some dance, that.

One or two regrettable things occurred during the day. Early in the morning, a juvenile team of baseballers—not from Chinook—were on the diamond, practicing, in close proximity to the new church. It was discovered two or three hours later that four large panes of glass and three colored lights had been willfully smashed by stones, the stones being picked up on the floor of the church. That was pure cussedness!

The other was the work of sneak thieves. Some ten bats, two new $3.00 gloves and four balls stolen off the diamond, besides two mouth organs and two $3.50 baseball mitts from the drug store, and its up to parents if they discover any of these stolen articles to have them returned to their rightful owners.

Most of the work, as usual, was done by the "faithful few"—all honor to them.

That was some band from Oyen. Talking about bands. Who gave the members of the band orders to run up an ice cream account at the ladies' aid booth? The sports committee say they didn't. Who else, then, had authority?

Or was it a case of "cheek" or "small potatoes"?

Canada is bearing its full share of the brunt of the fighting in Europe, and the ties of the British empire are thereby still further strengthening. The loyalty of the British overseas dominions is one of the great elements of strength of the entente powers, which was long since proved.

Public Notice

By the Board of Trustees of The Chinook Consolidated S.D., No. 16, of the Province of Alberta.

WHEREAS it is deemed expedient by the Board of Trustees of the Chinook Consolidated S.D., No. 16, of the Province of Alberta, that the sum of Fifteen Thousand Dollars should be borrowed on the security of the said District by the issue of Debentures repayable to the bearer in twenty equal consecutive annual instalments with interest at the rate of not more than eight per centum per annum for the following purposes, namely, building and equipping a solid brick, steam-heated, four room, all on one floor, full basement, School Building and for purchasing Conveyances.

THEREFORE NOTICE is hereby given by the Board of the said District that unless a poll of the ratepayers of the said District for and against the said debenture loan is demanded as provided by The School Ordinance the said Board will apply to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners for authority to borrow the said sum by debentures.

Of which all persons interested are hereby notified, and they are required to govern themselves accordingly.

I W. DEMAN,

Chairman
Dated at Chinook, Alta. this 17th day of June, 1916.

INSTRUCTIONS TO RATEPAYERS

In rural districts a poll on a debenture loan may be demanded by any four ratepayers if the loan exceeds $1,200.00 or if the loan is not for the purpose of building a first school house.

In town and village districts a poll may be demanded on any debenture loan by twenty and ten ratepayers respectively.

Every demand for a poll should be delivered to the secretary of the district or in his absence to the chairman of the board within fifteen days from the date of posting these notices. A certified copy of the demand should be forthwith forwarded to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of Alberta at Edmonton.

CERTIFIED A TRUE COPY

Sec.-Treas.

School and Equipment for Sale

I HAVE been instructed by the Board of Trustees of Popular S. D., No. 2613, to offer for sale the following property of the said district: The School Building, which is large and well-built—has a neat cold-shed behind—would be a good investment for a neighboring district requiring a school or a church; or with but little extra cost it could be made into a fine dwelling.

A Stable, large enough for 8 or 10 horses.

Two good Closets, with screened approaches. Fencing, 7 or 8 stout cement posts, large and small iron gates, cedar posts, and woven wire enough to fence 2 acres, some of the wire never been unrolled.

Teachers' desk, office chair, 2 other chairs, about 15 desks for pupils, large map case and maps, library case and library, reading tablets, large bell, blackboard, etc.

Waterbury Heating System, good as new.

A Good School Organ, in use but a short time.

Two screen doors—never been used; coal and kindling.

Everything must be sold. Tenders will be received for all or for any part of this property. If tendering for more than one part of it, state how much you will pay for each part. In this way all will have a fair chance.

Tenders must be in before June 30th. The highest nor any tender not necessarily accepted.

Secretary,

Chinook, Alta.
